

Academy9 Conference: Building a Legacy

Innovation Papers Competition

COMPETITION NOW OPEN!

The aim of the Academy9 Innovation Papers Competition is to raise awareness of and inspire innovation across the field of STEM, and to celebrate the Year of Young People.

To enter, you must submit a paper highlighting an example of innovation from one of your projects. Entries can be selected from a wide range of professional areas and innovation could be a new idea, or a smarter, fairer, healthier, greener or safer way of doing the job.

Competition winners will be invited to submit a full paper, and will be asked to take part in a video presentation for inclusion and display at the Academy9 Conference. It is intended that these presentations will particularly inspire young people who will be attending the conference, highlighting to them the creativity experienced while working in STEM careers.

Find out more and download your entry form at: academy9conference.co.uk

Why should you enter?

- Professional development
- Professional recognition across a wide network of professionals and organisations
